Scriptural Focus

Our focus will be on the second half of Revelation 22. In Stevenson’s original novel, this was the page that was torn from young Dick Johnson’s Bible and blackened with a Black Spot to be delivered to Long John Silver. In our singing, praying, and gathering around the Word, we will talk about the red X that crosses our heart, marking the spot with the Blood of the Lamb so that our death sentence is removed.
RPM stands for "Role Playing Mystery." This means you and your family are playing the roles of suspects in a "real time" mystery! You will be provided with a background, personality, and some clues, but it is up to you to act as your character would, avoiding suspicion and danger, to solve a mystery... and find a hidden treasure!

The year is 1725. Treasure Island is somewhere in the Caribbean.

As you may recall, the Hispaniola sailed with twenty-seven souls. Seventeen of those were as black as the Devil's. Only six would come away alive - five good... and one bad. It is now seventeen years following those tragic events that befell Captain Teach's ill-fated voyage to find the vast stolen fortunes of Captain Flint.

The Hispaniola has once again weighed anchor in the bays of Treasure Island. You and the braver souls in your family booked passage to the island to uncover the mysteries that led to the deaths of the last group of-family relatives that dispatched for the island. And of course, you are here to uncover what remains of the treasure that was left behind seventeen years ago.

Look sharp! It is not unlikely that your expedition will encounter pirates, ghosts, black spots, and of you're lucky - a cross that marks the spot. And beware of the curse left behind by Long John Silver, a curse for anyone who goes to the island himself. The Squint left a tangle of debts that pose a threat to your creature comforts. Marrying back into money would be dumb, and actually having to work for it - no need for ridiculous measures.

Your expedition will also be taking you through the verses of Revelation chapter twenty-one.

What is an RPM?

You and your family will play one of the following:

The Trelawneys

You are not as well traveled or as enterprising as your eccentric family benefactor. You are more used to come home to be waited on by family servants. You were quite distressed when news came back that Captain Teach had been poisoned six months ago in his quest to treasure island... necessitating that you now needed to go to the island yourself. The Squint left a tangle of debts that pose a threat to your creature comforts. Marrying back into money would be dumb, and actually having to work for it - no need for ridiculous measures.

The Grays

You are humble country folk who have devoted yourselves to the needs of your humble county of Bristol. You are first an Anglican, second a British patriot, and third a leonine. Taking the servant professions of teachers, clerks, and doctors, your appearance is to serve your fellow man more than to dig up buried treasure. You were quite surprised when your family senior, Dr. David Livesey decided to return to Treasure Island again, and swore to learn of his being raised while on the island, six months ago. You have come to see the proper burial and procure any justice that might be done.

The Smollets

You are first an Anglican, second a British patriot, and third a teetotaler. Taking the servant professions of teachers, clerks, and doctors, your appearance is to serve your fellow man more than to dig up buried treasure. You were quite surprised when your family senior, Dr. David Livesey decided to return to Treasure Island again, and swore to learn of his being raised while on the island, six months ago. You have come to see the proper burial and procure any justice that might be done.

The Hawkinses

You are humble country folk who have devoted yourselves to the needs of your humble county of Bristol. You are first an Anglican, second a British patriot, and third a leonine. Taking the servant professions of teachers, clerks, and doctors, your appearance is to serve your fellow man more than to dig up buried treasure. You were quite surprised when your family senior, Dr. David Livesey decided to return to Treasure Island again, and swore to learn of his being raised while on the island, six months ago. You have come to see the proper burial and procure any justice that might be done.

The Gunns

You are first an Anglican, second a British patriot, and third a leonine. Taking the servant professions of teachers, clerks, and doctors, your appearance is to serve your fellow man more than to dig up buried treasure. You were quite surprised when your family senior, Dr. David Livesey decided to return to Treasure Island again, and swore to learn of his being raised while on the island, six months ago.
